WANDER OFF THE BEATEN PATH, EXPLORE DENVER'S PERFORMING ARTS UNDERGROUND

About Us

What is Under the Radar?

At Under The Radar, we believe many of the best stories lie hidden, waiting for discovery. Our site aims to bring Tier 3 Performing Arts organizations into the spotlight, and show the heart and soul behind them. We welcome anyone in the Denver area to find and interact with any and all of these Organizations.

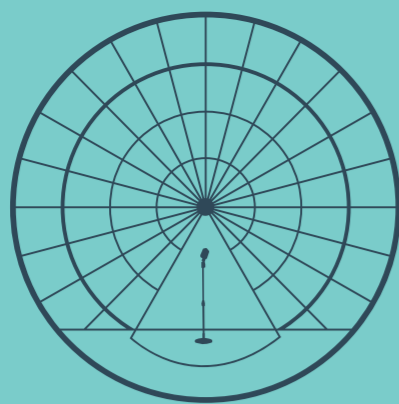

Our Mission and Vision

[Placeholder] Under The Radar is dedicated to showing off Tier 3 performing arts organizations, amplifying their voices, and connecting them with new audiences. We want to create an inclusive arts community in Denver, where all organizations are recognized and supported.

What are Tier 3 Performing Arts Organizations?

Tier 3 organizations are smaller and lesser known groups, and operate outside large-scale art institutions. They often face limited resources, smaller budgets, and niche audiences. Due to these limitations, they often take more artistic risks and embrace experimental performances

We believe community is enriched by theatre! As one of the most versatile art forms around, theatre provides an excellent vehicle for delivering a wide range of experiences and connections from educational to interpersonal and creative. Our unique performance program, which we call "Make Believe and Beyond" (MBB) is rooted in the practice of devised theatre. Working as a team, participants of all ages collaborate in classes to adapt a well-known story (or expand on shared values) for stage production.

Theatre truly is for everyone, and we hope everyone in our community will stop by and find a way to connect with us, suggest a program, develop a program, or take a class!

Art as Action

Our programs welcome and accommodate people with (dis)ability/chronic illness, creating spaces where they feel considered and catered to from the moment they arrive. We create physically/emotionally safe and comfortable spaces, allowing our dancers the freedom to surrender to the flow of dancing instead of fighting to conform to specific shapes and movements. Through modifying choreography to be physically integrative, we have found more opportunities for innovation and creativity. To continue breaking down barriers to dance and expand accessibility, we now offer both virtual and in-person programming.

AaA is a safe space to explore and expand where judgement and expectations are checked at the door.

3rd Law Dance/Theater

VIDEO

3rd Law professes a creative vision that merges a powerful, energetic bodily idiom with a thoughtful and personal spirit where the voice of every artist is honored in the process. We desire to create a challenging magical space for artist, collaborator, community and audience. A space where a range of emotion emerges from a place of motion in the body. Live production, different at every performance, responding to an interaction between performers and audience makes dance a unique language. We believe live dance performance is a visceral and bodily experience that moves the audience in ways that cannot be accomplished by other means.

With a passionate belief in the power of live, in-the-moment performance and the collaborative environment, 3rd Law has become a premiere dance company in our region.

Arvada Chorale

VIDEO

At its inception in 1977, the Arvada Center Chorale was the resident vocal ensemble at the Arvada Center for the Arts and Humanities. The Chorale steadily evolved from a handful of volunteer, non-auditioned singers to a company of about 70 auditioned musicians. It offered an annual concert series of holiday, spring and summer concerts, choral festivals and special performances throughout the metro area, Colorado and internationally. We have rehearsed and performed at Arvada United Methodist Church since 2015, embracing our mission as a community chorus that welcomes anyone who wants to sing.

The Arvada Chorale brings joy and enrichment to the Front Range community through beautiful choral music.
